"Big Sister" Movement Is Badly Needed Here

So Chief Wood Tells Federated Women's Clubs—Some Dance Halls Here Permit Questionable Dances—Need for Constant Movie Censorship—Autos Worst Foe of Girls' Morals and Police Can Do Nothing—Dr. Chamberlain Tells of the Far East.

The two speakers at the open meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs held in the Chapel of the First Dutch Reformed Church on Saturday afternoon, drew a good audience in spite of the inclement weather. During the brief business session, the treasurer, Mrs. Van Wazeren, announced that the Federation would clear in the neighborhood of a hundred dollars from the Patricio concert held last week, with which to inaugurate their civic work.

The only committee to report was the Public Health Committee, Dr. Day telling of the recent free nursing classes held by the staff of the Benedictine Hospital and attended for the most part by about 500 people at each class, where there were lectures, demonstrations and practical instructions given. By request she told in a very few words of the Republican Women's Conferences at Albany which she had attended, and in passing Dr. Day urged upon all present, from her own aroused conscience, not to further any legislative measure of any sort without the most careful reading of the proposed bill. This advice was given to individuals, clubs and committees and the Federation itself.

Mrs. Walker the Federation secretary, read a communication regarding the Roosevelt Memorial, to become a life member of which would cost $1.00, and the statement was made that any one wishing to join or to know more of the movement might get the desired information from Mrs. Harry Walker, secretary of the Federation, or from Mrs. G. F. Rice, president of the Federation.

The Federation of Kingston, as a body, endorsed the motion of its executive committee, recommending Mr. John H. Boothe, now first vice president of the State Federation, as the nominee for president of the State Federation for the coming election.

"The Rag Sociable."
An old fashioned entertainment, entitled, "The Rag Sociable" will be given at the Poughkeepsie Union Congregational Church on Friday evening, March 31, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society.

All present were reminded of the District Federation of Women's Clubs which will be held in Albany on March 28.

Mrs. Rice then introduced J. Allan Wood, head of the Kingston police department, who briefly spoke to the women present on one of the crying civic needs in our community, a girls' welfare movement as least as active and interested as the boys' welfare work now being carried on by the men of the city.

There were some very pertinent and thought provoking sentences in Mr. Wood's remarks, well worth quoting. "The prevention of crime is the great problem of the day. An old axiom is, 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.' To prevent crime we must attack its source. We should not permit the establishment or growth of anything which would tend to corrupt the morals of the young. The control of leisure must be given first consideration for it is during idle hours that opportunity is found for questionable conduct."

Again, "I believe it is the duty of women's organizations to take up and discuss the evils which surround us. We have in Kingston, all winter, unchaperoned dance halls where our young men and women have gathered for the purpose of enjoyment. I do not criticize these places as a whole, but at some of them dances of modern invention are permitted which do not raise the moral tone of the participants."

Chief Wood thought the censorship of the movies thus far, had accomplished some good, raising the moral tone of these shows, but he expressed the opinion that there was need of constant censorship.

But the following was perhaps the most important of the entire address: "The automobile furnishes easy access to places of amusement in other parts of the country and nearby villages. Why should one passing along the streets of Kingston see groups of young women waiting for their escorts to take them automobile riding? Such occurrences can be seen nightly between Washington avenue and the Strand between 7 and 9. By the way, Cameron Beck quoted someone as saying that 7 p. m. was the boys' zero hour, and isn't it the girls' zero hour, too?"

To all outward appearances these girls are well behaved daughters of well bred families. Yet why do they meet their escorts in this way? Why should not the escort meet them at their homes? They are orderly and well behaved while waiting, therefore what can the police do about the matter? These automobiles are often seen afterward at the road houses in this vicinity and on their return to the city the young women are left somewhere in the neighborhood from which they were taken, and proceed home alone."

"Our girl population at the present time is about 3,500—girls between the ages of fifteen and twenty-five years—and it does seem to me that the growth of Kingston demands that something be done here for girls of all ages."

"The greatest need that I have found for the young girl who has come within the hand of the law is that of an organized body of women to whom she may go and be assured of aid in the first step upward."

We need more big sister movements. Are the women of Kingston showing the proper interest in girl welfare? There is the big brother idea in the Rotary Club and the Kiwanis Club. These have accomplished much for the welfare of our boys. We need some welfare work done for the girls, a general welfare movement or an organization which would appeal to any girl, regardless of class or creed, a movement to better the conditions as they exist today."

At the close of Mr. Wood's talk and after he had asked to be excused, there was further information regarding the very need he had spoken of, given by some of the women present. Apropos of the automobile situation as outlined by the chief, it was stated by one woman who had overheard more than one summer evening conversation by a group of pretty young girls, strangers to her but who evidently live in town, gathered at street corners, which proved conclusively that in many instances the girls were not waiting for expected escorts, but for any man or men coming in town with an auto, who would invite them to go for a ride. It was equally apparent that they expected to go, counting the fact that they would not know the man or men as part of the evening's fun. Yet, as Mr. Wood said, these girls were in no way misbehaving. They certainly did need a woman friend, and it was a matter of serious regret to the speaker that an important business engagement kept her from seeing the conclusion of the conversation in more than one or two instances, which she did see, so far as the autoist was concerned. The Federation hopes to undertake some real helpful work of this kind in the immediate future.

The meeting was then turned over to the Monday Club which was the entertaining club, and Mrs. Van Hovenberg, the president, introduced the speaker for the afternoon, the Rev. Dr. Chamberlain who spoke on "The Far East."

This talk dealt with international, and political facts, from which conditions could be readily understood as arising, in consequence.

That there is an "increasingly enlarged interest in matters of the Far East," could not be doubted by any one who heard Dr. Chamberlain, if they had so doubted before.

In proving that while there might be narrow boundaries in the political outlook of a nation, there could be no boundaries to the spiritual vision of a people, he reminded his audience of the provincialism of this nation, almost to the present time, due to the necessary absorption in the pioneers in becoming established in this new land. And only with the arms conference do we seem to have fully awakened to world consciousness, to a realization of our relations to the rest of the world.

Yet, even today America's is a relation of ideals to the old world.

In speaking of the Far East needs, Dr. Chamberlain said that Japan needed a rebirth into the belief in the unseen, and he spoke in highest terms of the handsome confession made by the Japanese representative at the Arms Conference as to America's idealism, before regarded with suspicion by the Japanese.

Dr. Chamberlain then took his hearers over a short political journey through the Far East. In India's historical past, he noted the fact that there has been always an absolute divorce between the religion and the realism of India. Arabia he labelled "A desert of Independence."

When it came to India, Dr. Chamberlain proved conclusively what an enormous, what an incomprehensible, what an all but impossible task is that of governing India as a whole, a task which is today most seriously occupying the powers of Great Britain.

If there is to be one government in India, from the very nature of things of peoples and conditions, it can never come from within. It must come from without. Yet, since that world war, in which India showed such splendid loyalty to England, the demand for a representative government has grown greatly. The speaker considered that being educated partly in England, might have helped Gandhi's very power with the people whom he has been leading. And he was positive in his statement that while a very real mystic, Gandhi is quite sincere, and he expressed some apprehensions as to the outcome of the arrest of Gandhi, though based upon constitutional necessity.

At the close of Dr. Chamberlain's address a rising vote of thanks was given to him, to the entertaining club and to Chief Wood for the afternoon's enlightenment.

NIGHT SESSIONS IN LEGISLATURE

Local Bills to be Disposed of at Rate of One a Minute to Permit Adjournment Friday—Bills Carrying Out Governor's Recommendations as Good as Passed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, March 13, (Special).—With the final date of adjournment set for next Friday, the first real fight of this session of the legislature is expected to take place this week.

The anticipated controversy will be over the Lockwood Committee housing bills. The fight started to develop last Friday when a dispute arose between Senator Lockwood and Senator Gibbs over action of the financial bills of the housing program by the senate cities committee of which Mr. Gibbs is chairman.

Opposition to the housing bills which had been quietly developing came to the surface, and this week they promise to be the battling center of opposing factions.

The housing bills which are still in committee, include those creating the State Trade Commission to prevent violations of the anti-monopoly law, to require savings banks and insurance companies to invest 40 per cent of their investable funds in real estate, to make it compulsory for judges to impose prison sentences on convicted violators of the anti-trust law. Another housing bill, which would enable the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to invest $100,000 in building low rent dwellings in New York city, has been reported to the senate and probably will be passed. Two of the housing bills already have passed the senate, and three others are on the senate calendar.

Governor Miller's announcement that he favors the creation of a commission to study the home rule question virtually removes that subject from further consideration at this session.

During the closing days of the session it is expected that the lawmakers will pass both the Brundage bill appropriating $1,000,000 for disabled soldiers, and the Simpson measure carrying out the governor's recommendation for a constitutional amendment which would enable the issuance of state bonds for a soldier bonus. This will probably be all the soldier legislation that will get through this year.

All of the so-called blue sky bills aimed at crooked stock brokers and bucket shops, it is understood, have been abandoned. In their place the legislature has agreed to appropriate $10,000 with which Attorney General Newton can better enforce the Martin law of last year. The Martin law empowered the attorney general to proceed against criminal stock speculators, but did not give him an appropriation for the work.

With the exception of the water-power and child welfare bills, virtually all of the important measures of the governor's legislative program have been enacted. Legislative leaders say the waterpower bills are sure of passage.

There will be sessions of the legislature every night this week. During the last few days of the session local bills will be jammed through at the rate of more than one a minute. Indications are that there will be quite a fight over the railroad full crew repeal bill, but it is believed it will be defeated, despite amendments which have been made to it.

TWO ARRESTS AS SLAYERS OF HADAS.
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, March 13.—Two arrests were made today in connection with the holdup and murder of 28-year-old Samuel Hadas, cashier in an Amsterdam avenue drug store. The automobile in which the bandits escaped was driven by a woman. She had acted as "lookout" during the attempted robbery. No money was secured.

The two prisoners gave the names of Edward Carson and Jack Carhuft. The drug store is on the ground floor of Whittier Hall, occupied as a dormitory by 1,000 women students of Barnard College. Hadas was working his way through a dental college.

Flannery Quits As Coach.
Rip Flannery, for two years coach of the Poughkeepsie high school football squad, has announced that he would not coach the team next season. He gave as his reason the pressure of his law practice in Poughkeepsie and Beacon.

SHOULD LOAD TRUCKS LIGHTLY

The state highway department is calling attention to truck drivers and owners of the fact that serious injury will very probably be done to the improved roads of the state by trucks at this season of the year if heavily loaded trucks are operated over the roads while they are soft due to the spring thaws. Owing to light snow fall the roads have not been protected and the frost has penetrated deep. In the early spring the roads are soft when the frost is going out trucks cut deep into the roadway and often times roadways which would give better service for a long time are destroyed in a few weeks.

In order to remedy this condition the highway department is requesting truck drivers to load only 2-3 capacity during the thawing process which will last until warm weather sets in and the roads dry out. Such notices are being posted in garages and other public places.

GANDHI TO OWN TO SEDITION
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
London, March 13.—The wave of violence which it was feared might sweep India as a result of the arrest of Mohandas Gandhi, chief Nationalist leader, and his colleague Mahatma Shantkerlal, has failed to materialize, according to dispatches from India today. Only one minor outbreak was reported.

A dispatch from Lahore to the Daily Telegraph said that Gandhi welcomed arrest as a protection against overzealous followers who were insisting upon an aggressive campaign against British rule.

The same dispatch reported a slight outbreak in the village of Udaipur in the Haridwar district where policemen killed two Indians. The police had been surrounded by a threatening mob.

Gandhi and Shantkerlal have expressed willingness to plead guilty to sedition when placed on trial. They have already had a preliminary hearing, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Bombay.

3 PER CENT INCREASE IN FACTORY WORK REPORTED.
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, March 13.—A 3 per cent increase in factory employment occurred from January to February. With the exception of the 4 per cent increase last September, this is the largest gain since the beginning of the depression. These statements are contained in an analysis of more than 1,500 manufacturers' reports, issued today by the industrial commissioner, Henry D. Sayer, of the state department of labor. Improved business conditions and seasonal demand were the chief factors causing the gain in employment. The reopening of factories after the semi-annual shut downs for inventories and repairs was also responsible for greater employment. Most of the reductions reported were again due to seasonal lulls.

Boys Were Vindicated.
The small boy of Catskill has been vindicated of the suspicion that he was going around the streets upsetting receptacles filled with ashes and garbage. For some time there have been complaints that boys were going around at night upsetting such receptacles in front of the property of their owners, and the village policeman was detailed to watch for them. After scouting around for mischievous boys without finding any, he discovered that the receptacles were being upset by hungry but intelligent dogs in search of breakfast.

TO SING PASSION STORY AT CHURCH OF REDEEMER
Devotional Rendition of "The Crucifixion" To Be Given.

At the mid-week Lenten service next Wednesday evening, in the Redeemer Lutheran Church at Wurts and Rogers streets, in the place of the usual lessons, sermon and litany, the cantata, "The Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer, will be sung and the congregation enabled to fully participate through the medium of a folder to be distributed, containing the words of the entire cantata. Emphasis is being laid upon the devotional rather than the musical aspect. "The Crucifixion" is perhaps the most popular and at the same time of the highest musical and literary order poems not only to be heard, but must be understood and appreciated if real appreciation is to be had. Provision has been made therefore that the congregation may follow part after part. It is expected that the seating capacity of the church will be taxed to the utmost.

The choir members are as follows: Soprano, the Misses Jeannette Grimes, Kathryn Rosa, Mildred Schwab, Marion Rosa, Helen Miers, Mabel Thomas, Lillian Van Steenburgh, Clara Rice, Mesdames LaTour, Osterhout and Nelson; altos, the Misses Elsie Lebert, Gertrude Messinger, Alice Fox, Mrs. T. ## South African Rebels Being Thrown Back

Nearly 200 Killed and Thousand Wounded in Mine Fields Battle Between Workers and Government Troops Who are Using Airplanes and Armored Cars.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, March 13.—Government forces engaged with the rebels in the mine fields are advancing along the entire line. Government leaders say that the whole military situation now favors the government. Nearly 200 have been killed and more than 1,000 wounded in the battle.

All the western and northern side of the Reef are now held by government troops under General Brit.

General Vandevanter's government forces are throwing back the rebels.

Heavy fighting is anticipated in the Benoni and Brakpan regions. Continuous attacks with airplanes are being carried out against the revolutionaries. The rebels are being bombed and fired upon with machine guns.

Trench warfare is threatened in the Fordburg sector. The rebels hold the town and have thrown up earthworks all around it.

Houses at Benoni and Hoksburg have been fired in reprisal for the death of a woman from a bomb.

Large forces of farmers have responded to Premier General Smuts's call for volunteers to help the government troops.

General Smuts is directing the operations of the government troops in person. He declared that the position of the loyal forces is strong and that it should not take long to put down the uprising.

The regular infantry is supported by artillery, airplanes and armored cars.

"The present revolutionary movement is the work of extremist agitators who have used the strike in the mine fields as a cloak for dissemination of the syndicalist views among the many workers who were unable to detect the danger and the futility of the campaign," said General Smuts.

"The military positions are well in hand and with the cooperation of Joyal citizens, who are actively supporting the government, it should not take long to re-establish peaceful conditions.

"A general strike has been declared throughout the Union of South Africa, but the mass of workers and trade unionists in the centers of population outside the Rand have refused to be stampeded into it. The outstanding feature of the situation has been the behaviour of the native population who have shown exemplary forbearance and patience throughout."

Fighting is in progress not only in and around Johannesburg, but in various parts of the mine fields, known as the Rand. The strikers include workers in the coal, iron, gold and diamond mines.

A bullet struck General Smuts's motor car while he was driving towards the mine fields, but he was not injured. The prelude had a narrow escape. The incident took place near Booysebos during an exchange of volleys between military police and strikers.

A number of women have been killed during fusillades in this city and suburbs. The morgues are choked with dead. The hospitals are overcrowded with wounded. Private houses are being converted into hospitals.

Two of the chief danger spots outside the city are Fordburg and Jeppe. A four hour battle between government cavalry and a commando of syndicalists at Jeppe resulted in a victory for the cavalry. The rebels were trying to cut off the city's water supply. The cavalry lost six killed and 15 wounded. The casualties of the rebels are not known.

The government troops have been carrying on a systematic campaign against the rebels holding the hopes outside the city.

The rebels suffered a severe defeat at Britton Ridge on Sunday morning. In addition to heavy casualties they lost 1,500 in prisoners.

A member of a Boer commando, assisting the government forces at Krugersdorp, was seized and shot down.

WILLIAM B. BROWN
"THE NEW"

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BIDDLE'S NEWEST TRICK

"Virginia, the walking doll," said Daddy, "belonged to a little girl named Kitty."

"She also had another doll named Francis, who looked just like a baby. Francis wore little black patent leather shoes with buckles and white stockings and when Kitty would move his head he would say, 'Mama, or Papa, just as nicely as could be.'"

"Never Get Tired," "Then Kitty had another doll called Marion, named after a great friend of hers. Marion was a very much smaller doll than the other two, but she was a great pet all the same. 'In fact, Kitty took her three dolls almost everywhere with her.'"

"They were the greatest friends in the world. 'Francis had little hands, just like a baby's, and when you took hold of Francis' hand it almost seemed as though his fingers curled around yours as a baby's will. He had a head shaped just like a baby's too, and Kitty thought he was a most adorable baby doll.'"

"As for Virginia, the walking doll, Kitty never got tired of walking her up and down the room, taking hold of her hand so that she would stand up quite straight. 'Now Kitty was visiting her cousins, the Birdalls, who owned the cat known as Biddle Birdall.'"

"Oh yes," said Nancy, "we haven't heard about Biddle in ever and ever so long and Biddle is such a clever cat." "What has Biddle been doing this time?" asked Nick.

"Biddle has been doing something interesting," said Daddy. "I almost feel as if I had seen that cat," said Nancy, "and looked at his great green eyes and smoothed his soft gray fur. 'I can almost hear his bell tinkle as he walks along, the bell which jingles when he moves so the birds will know that he is coming, and which he wears on his collar.'"

"Yes, I feel as though I knew Biddle Birdall and all of his family." "So do I," agreed Nick. "Do tell us what he has been doing now, Daddy." "Well," said Daddy, "Biddle Birdall said to himself that he simply couldn't stand for all this attention that the dolls were getting. He wanted some of it himself. 'Now one day the family were all sitting about admiring Kitty's dolls. Biddle was in a corner of the room and no one had spoken to him, and Biddle didn't like that particularly. 'To be sure he had just had an excellent meal and there was nothing he needed except a little attention and a little praise. 'He didn't know what to do. He purred quite hard but they didn't pay any attention to him then, as Francis, the baby doll was saying: 'Mama, Papa, over and over again.'"

"It was just too much for Biddle. So he got up and jumped over on the keyboard of the piano. 'And what did he do but walk up and down that piano several times, trying to strike every note with his paws: 'Now if you won't notice me!' he was trying to say. 'And, to be sure, he succeeded. 'No one paid any more attention to the dolls but they laughed at Biddle and thought it was the greatest joke. At first they had jumped with surprise as they couldn't imagine who could be playing the piano! 'And Biddle was delighted. He had made them look at him instead of at the dolls. And, too, he had made up a new trick. He did this many times afterward, when everything was quiet, so they'd be sure to notice him, or when he wasn't getting as much attention as he thought he ought to have. 'Everyone in the family told of Biddle's latest trick and Biddle was so much pleased. 'I have to give them a new trick once in awhile,' he said to himself. 'For I've spoiled them so, they expect it!'"

"And Biddle was really right. He had made up so many fine tricks that they quite expected them, but were none the less pleased and surprised and admiring of each new one."

I wish I had my neighbor's child for just six weeks of life. I'd like to try to teach him all the things he ought to know. To guide his little footsteps in the way that he should go.

I cannot try my theories out upon my own dear three. For deeply I regret to state that they are 'don't to me!' They know I'm never quite so sure as I intend to be!—Marian Van Buren Cleveland.

DELICIOUS PINEAPPLE WAYS

Prepare the usual cottage pudding, baking in a sheet; the mixture is a simple, plain cake recipe. Cut in squares while hot and serve with Pineapple Sauce.—Mix together one-half cupful sugar and one tablespoonful of flour; when well blended pour over this one cupful of boiling hot pineapple juice and cook long enough to cook the starch in the flour; add a pinch of salt and a generous tablespoonful of butter; serve poured over each square of pudding.

Pineapple Pie.—Prepare the usual rich pastry shell and fill with the following: Take one and one-half cupfuls of milk, scalded; a pinch of salt, one-half cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch well mixed with the sugar, two eggs lightly beaten, one cupful of crushed or grated pineapple and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. The crust may be baked and filled with the cooked filling of both be cooked at the same time. Cover with a meringue and brown.

Pineapple Fritters.—Take one and one-third cupfuls of flour, add two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, two-thirds of a cupful of milk, one egg, one-half cupful of sugar and one cupful of crushed or grated pineapple. Mix well and drop by spoonfuls into deep fat. Cook until brown, drain on paper and serve with: Richieu Sauce.—Boil one cupful of sugar with one cupful of water five minutes. Add a teaspoonful of cornstarch moistened with a bit of water; cook until the starch is well cooked. Remove from the heat, add one-half cupful of grated pineapple and a tablespoonful of marshmallows. Mix well and stir in two tablespoonfuls of chopped marshmallow cherries.

Arizona's Petrified Forest.

The petrified forest of Arizona is really a series of petrified forests. There are four of these forests included in a government reservation called Petrified Forest National monument, created by presidential proclamation in 1906. The name "forest" is not strictly appropriate, for the petrified tree trunks are all prostrate and are broken into sections. The logs are the remains of giant trees that grew in Triassic time, the age of reptiles. Some of the tree trunks are six feet in diameter and more than a hundred feet in length. In the first forest there is a fine trunk that forms a natural bridge over a small ravine, the water having first washed away the overlying clay and sand and then, following a crevice, worked out the channel underneath. The length of this log is 110 feet, and the diameter four feet at the butt and one and one-half feet at the top. These facts have been given out by the United States geological survey.

Ice Railway in Canada.

It is true. On New Year's day, 1880, the Southeastern railway commenced to build a railway across the ice from the north bank of the St. Lawrence river, at a point near Belleville Park and the Longueuil ferry to Longueuil. The promoters of the plan included Judge Monseau, M. A. B. Foster, Mr. L. A. Senecal and Mr. J. B. Renauld. The contractors were August Laberge & Son, the builders of the Montreal city hall. Loaded cars were drawn across the ice to Montreal on January 28, and on January 30 an engine, weighing 50,000 pounds, crossed the ice from the Montreal side of the river. On March 15 horses were used to draw cars instead of engines. There were 30 cars on the ice railway on March 31, but (as the ice was found to be unsafe), on April 1, the rails were removed from the ice.

DON'T LET INCOMPETENT "HANDY-MEN" DO YOUR PLUMBING JOB.

The following clipping from a Des Moines newspaper tragically tells what can often happen when a so-called "handy-man" attempts to do the Plumber's work.

AMATEUR PLUMBERS MAY FACE CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Des Moines, Nov. 15.

Two amateurs who attempted to do a job of plumbing without a plumbing permit may have to face a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Lena Huffman about a week ago. Mrs. Huffman was found dead from asphyxiation in a room back of a small store. It is claimed that the two men had run gas pipes through this room in order to connect with a room above. Relatives of Mrs. Huffman claim these men were not plumbers and that they used old, rusty pipe which was not gas proof. They have employed Attorney Volney Dilt to press the charge.

MELLON DOESN'T MOVE FORDNEY

Who Announces That Bonus Bill Will Go Through As Scheduled And Hope Harding Will Not Use Veto.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 13.—In face of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's latest condemnation of the soldiers' bonus bill, Representative Fordney of Michigan, chairman of the house ways and means committee, announced today that the committee would go ahead with its program of passing the bill a week from today and declared that the measure would be formally laid before the house during the day.

Republican members of the committee met this morning to make minor changes in the compromise measure.

Although Fordney declined to comment on Mellon's letter in which the secretary of the treasury objected to the committee's bill because of the provisions for loans by national banks on adjusted service certificates, he said that the Republicans had expected such criticism to come from the treasury department before the bill was reported to the house. It was his opinion that the plans of Republican leaders to jam the bill through regardless of opposition from the White House or the treasury, would not be changed.

The Mellon letter was freely discussed when the committee members met together today, but they were not inclined to agree with the secretary's statement that "frozen credits" and "inflation of currency" would result from the operation of the compensation scheme they have determined upon as a substitute for the original cash feature of the bonus bill.

Chairman Fordney remained hopeful that the bonus bill in its present form would not be so displeasing to President Harding after he studied its provisions as to cause him to veto the measure after it gets through congress.

It was admitted, however, that the flat condemnation of Secretary Mellon might go far to influence the attitude of the president in view of his reiterated purpose to stand put on his demand for a sales tax to raise the money for the compensation of the postmen of the bonus until the treasury was in better condition to meet the new demands.

Minor amendments and changes in phraseology were to be agreed upon by the Republicans of the ways and means committee today before the bill was placed before the Democrats of the committee.

The most important of the amendments was the elimination of the provision which would compel ex-soldiers to make a decision within six months after the enactment of the law as to which of the five compensation offers they would accept. The committee now proposes to make it possible for the veteran to delay his decision indefinitely in order that no beneficiary may be excluded from the advantages of the measure because of his slowness in letting the government know just what he wants to do.

After the bill is finally perfected, the committee will adjourn to meet again during the afternoon. All members of the committee are expected to attend this meeting. It is likely that some discussion of Secretary Mellon's letter may develop when the Democrats get their first chance to formally consider the bill in the committee, but Chairman Fordney does not intend that any discussion will be indulged to such an extent as to interfere with his fixed determination to get the bill out to the open before the whole house before many more hours elapse.

Lung Weakness and Hacking Cough

Monday Health Talk No. 70.
By Froude & MacKinnon

Uncle Ben Says:

"It is better to keep a well-oiled cough than a long cough."

Many sufferers from terrifying lung diseases that hang on and on, threatening at any time to become violent, have no realization of the fact that chiropractic spinal adjustments will go directly to the seat of this trouble and remove the cause.

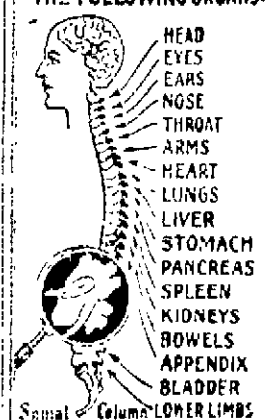

If the spinal nerves to the lungs are under pressure it is most reasonable to expect lack of tone, weakness and disease. Chiropractic spinal adjustments by freeing the nerves for their work give Nature a chance and health results.

SUFFERED 15 YEARS

"For fifteen years I had headaches, asthma, indigestion, lung weakness and a hacking cough, very distressing for which I had to take narcotics and cathartics. I tried many different methods without relief. After taking several courses of chiropractic spinal adjustments, I can thankfully state that chiropractic has made me well in nearly all of the troubles. I work more and feel better now than I have for years. I shall be glad to refer any one to the chiropractic method for I truly believe it is the only method that can do any one any permanent good." Mrs. Dora B. Taylor, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1305TH.

HEALTH FOLLOWS

CHIROPRACTIC CORRECTS PRESSURE ON SPINAL NERVES IN DISEASES OF THE FOLLOWING ORGANS:

THE LOWER NERVE UNDER THE MAGNIFYING GLASS IS PINCHED BY A MISALIGNED JOINT. PINCHED NERVES CANNOT TRANSMIT HEALTHFUL IMPULSES. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTING REMOVES THE PRESSURE. THE UPPER NERVE IS FREE AS NATURE INTENDS.

WHEN HEALTH BEGINS

When health begins depends on when you telephone 776 for an appointment. Consultation is without charge. Our variable rule is never to accept a case that we are not confident we can benefit.

TWO MEN BEATEN IN ROW SATURDAY

Geo. Shank Had Deputy Sheriff Towser McCullough's Daughter's Ring, and It Led to Shank and Woolheater Being Admitted to Kingston City Hospital.

Gus Shank of this city and George Woolheater of Port Ewen, were admitted to the Kingston City Hospital Saturday evening with bad cuts on the head sustained in a row at East Kingston that evening, and according to the story Shank told the local police the two men were beaten up by Deputy Sheriff Towser McCullough and his son in Pierce's hotel in East Kingston.

According to Shank's story he and Woolheater and another man from Cedar street, whose name was not ascertained by the police, drove out to East Kingston Saturday afternoon. Woolheater, who has a farm near the Port Ewen railroad station, was desirous of purchasing some cows in that place.

After completing their business the three men entered Pierce's hotel in the village. While there Deputy Sheriff McCullough and his son entered the place and demanded that Shank return the ring he had obtained from Towser's daughter.

An argument followed, and Shank claimed that Towser drew a bludgeon and set upon him striking him over the head and knocking him down. He also claimed that while he was on the floor Towser and his son kicked him and tore the ring from his finger.

Woolheater seeing Shank being manhandled went to his rescue and was also clouted with the bludgeon.

Both men were badly cut about the head. Woolheater also received a blow over the mouth which knocked out one of his teeth.

They came to Kingston and had their wounds dressed at the hospital and later left that institution. Dr. Frank A. Johnston, who attended Woolheater, stated this morning that none of the wounds were serious.

When the two injured men had left for Kingston the telephone in police headquarters rang and as the man on the desk answered it a voice said: "This is Towser. I have just given Gus Shank a good beating up. Good bye."

As the affair was staged outside the city limits the local police have taken no action in the matter. It is understood that Woolheater is expected to lodge a complaint against Towser with Sheriff Kolls.

RESULTS OF GAMES AT LANESVILLE COURT

On Friday night at the Lanesville Hall the Lanesville quartet returned the triumph that Pine Hill gave them at Pine Hill early in the season. The score at half time was 25 to 6 in favor of the locals. The final tally was 47 to 17. H. Smith was the main scorer with 12 field goals to his credit. Griffin of Pine Hill put up the best game for the visitors. The Lanesville Midgets played a preliminary game with the Chichester Midgets. The "Chi" Midgets were easy victors. This makes the fifth straight game they have won. The line up follows:

The Summer Cloud

It is a bright summer day. You're working hard in your office or in your store, and your wife is working hard at home.

Suddenly the summer day is no longer bright. Great thunder clouds cover all the heavens.

Immediately, thousands of hands in factories, in offices, in homes, reach for a switch or a button and turn on the light. The response is instantaneous.

As far as its obscuring power is concerned the summer thunder cloud is vanquished.

Under the clear electric lights, work goes on as before.

This is made possible by the constant vigilance of employees in the electric light and power stations, who, upon the first indication of a cloud in the sky, or of approaching night, prepare additional generators for instantaneous service, fire up the boilers, or open the water gates and start up the turbines, so that there may be no flickering of lights and no delay in the response of electrical energy when it is needed.

On a cloudy or stormy day more electrical energy is needed, and, therefore, more equipment is required to handle the load than during the bright, sunny days.

All this means equipment.

And equipment means capital.

Capital means investment by thrifty American men and women who look for a fair return upon their money.

Already, in addition to banks and insurance companies which have invested and loaned millions of dollars, there are 1,450,000 individual American investors in the electric light and power industry. They expect fair treatment from the public of which they are a part.

ORDERS ROADS TO SPECIFY REDUCTION

By Telegram to The Freeman.

A PLEASING COINCIDENCE.

Will Be Caulpolean Here on St. Patrick's Day.

Chief Caulpolean with assisting artists will be the big musical event of this season in Kingston, and the coming of the chief on March 17th, St. Patrick's Day, is a pleasing coincidence, in spite of the fact that it seems like speaking of the antipodes to mention South American and the Emerald Isle in the same breath.

Those who were fortunate enough to be of the Mendelssohn Club audience last year to a Kingston musical public, will recall his singing an Indian song, which was lovely as to melody but somewhat world without. After singing the Indian song he sang a charming Irish ballad, having practically the same musical content, as showing that the Indians often adapted European music to their own songs, and then with charming little dramatic touch, the chief exclaimed, "Oh! Those Irish!"

There were but very few in the audience who caught the full import of that exclamation, knowing that the chief had married a lovely "Mavourneen," with an American setting.

Since the concert is to be on St. Patrick's Day, it may be that the Athletic Association of the high school which is bringing the chief and associates to Kingston, can persuade Chief Caulpolean to give the audience one or two real Irish ballads.

It practically goes without saying that tickets for this concert are selling like the proverbial hot cakes.

SPRING WORK AT HIGH SCHOOL

Marshall Spreads Up Between Students. Lectures and Plays—Competition Here Friday.

One of the most important and interesting subjects taught this semester at the high school is Commercial Geography of which the instructor is Dr. Boerker. In connection with the topic of marketing in relation to its expansion, its enemy the middle-man, and its cornering, Mr. Chase of the Ulster County Farm Bureau spoke to the students Friday afternoon. Mr. Chase gave one instance where a farmer up-state was making a personal survey of the situation and while strolling about the market place of a large city he chanced upon a boy selling grapes and when the boy was approached by the farmer and asked what price he was receiving from purchasers the boy replied that he was receiving fifteen cents a pound. The farmer was somewhat crestfallen at the reply, since he raised the luscious fruit and sold it for the meagre sum of two cents a pound—to the middle-man.

Monday afternoon the first and second team debate was staged on the question "Resolved, That the United States should grant immediate independence to the Philippines" with the first team upholding the negative view of the topic. The speeches revealed much that was interesting in this regard but the hopes of the second team went to smash when the judges' decisions were rendered 3-1 in favor of the negative. A meeting of the debating council was held to discuss the advisability of making changes in the first team but it was agreed to let matters remain unchanged. The Varsity debating team holds the prime argument of the season with the Poughkeepsie High Varsity Friday evening, March 24, at Poughkeepsie. The judges were Lawyer Connolly, Dr. Boerker and Mr. McIntyre.

In answer to the challenge sent out by the second team of K. H. S. to debate the P. H. S. second team on the same question, in the local auditorium, and on the same night that the two varieties meet, the P. H. S. seconds have replied that they do not in view of some existing reasons which they did not mention, feel capable of supporting the negative side of the question against the K. H. S. seconds. But in order to offset this disappointment for the local seconds, a challenge has been sent off to Albany High.

All about town at present may be seen fifty posters proclaiming the chief Caupolican recital in this city Friday evening, March 17, at 8 o'clock. These posters have been made by the various members of the art classes and they are very fine specimens of the work done in that department. The ticket sellers report very favorably on the disposal of the tickets which may be exchanged for reserved seats on or after March 13, at the Y. M. C. A.

The amateurs are amassing daily now in preparation for the senior play to be given May 5. Miss Carter has her hands full at present, but her cross will become light as soon as the parts are learned. The play, "Pomander Walk," is having a most successful running at the Broadhurst Theater in New York under the title of "Marjolaine," with Peggy Wood and Lennox Parle playing the stellar roles.

The six weeks' reports were issued Friday with more or less satisfaction being manifested by the students, according to their respective standings. Some of the uninitiated freshmen received quite a jolt when they found that without even trying they had dropped "down" in their marks.

Mr. Spaulding's symphony is coming along in great shape but the performers have not yet acquired enough finesse to play before the students at the chapel exercises.

In the sports' sections some things are going on already for the football fans of 1923. Saratoga High School has sent an offer to the local Athletic Association of two games to be played in Kingston and Saratoga, the games to be played one each year. If the recital of Friday evening is a success no doubt the offer will be accepted. The contract calls for a guarantee of one hundred dollars to be paid to the visiting team, or a decrease of seventy-five dollars from the guarantee asked in preceding years. A game for next year's football squad is pending with Binghamton High School to be played at Binghamton.

The baseball batteries are warming up at the slightest hint from the weather each day for the capture of the cup again this year and all of the honors that go with it. Manager Schantz has announced that a game will be played with Glens Falls High School at Glens Falls and this, in itself, will be more of an excuse for a great turn-out of "Ruths" and "Kellys" than any other thing.

A meeting of the Webster-Hayne Debating Club was held Thursday afternoon at which the proposition of bringing the Hamilton College Dramatic Club before the public was discussed and defeated by a popular vote of the club.

The Senior class banner committee met Friday and closed arrangements for the alteration of the class's banner and if all goes as planned the new design will occupy the place of the discarded one in short order.

CHARGE TRUST IN GAS APPLIANCES

Indictments Returned Against Individuals and 3 Corporations for Violation of Sherman Law.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 13.—Three corporations and eight nationally known business men today were named in indictments returned in the United States district court, charging violations of the anti-trust act, in maintaining an alleged monopoly in gas appliances.

The corporations are: United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia.

The Welsbach Company, The Cities Illuminating Company.

The eight individuals were high officials in these and other companies. They are:

Samuel T. Bodine, of Philadelphia, president of the United Gas Improvement Company.

Randal Morgan, vice president of the same concern.

Sidney Mason, president of the Welsbach Company.

William F. Brown, assistant district attorney of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and director of the Cities Illuminating Company.

Arthur E. Shaw, vice president of the Cities Illuminating Company.

Eugene S. Newbold, president of the Cities Illuminating Company.

Charles Patterson, president of the Patterson Street Lighting Company of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

George M. Landers, of New Britain, Conn.

When the case came up before Federal Judge Julian W. Mack, only one of the individual defendants appeared for pleading. He was Sidney Mason who entered a tentative plea of not guilty and was held in $2,500 bail.

His counsel was given two weeks to demur or take any other action.

Counsel for the corporations appeared and entered pleas of not guilty. Bond of $1,000 was given in each case.

It is understood that some of the other individual defendants will give bail in the federal courts of the states in which they reside for their appearance here for pleading or trial.

The indictments specifically allege violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and charges that the combination "located the prices relating to the sale and transportation throughout the United States of goods of incandescent gas mantles, burners, lamps and appliances for the use of cities, municipalities, etc."

It explains that since 1898 there has existed in the United States and particularly in the southern district of New York a large and important industry known as the incandescent lamp business, has been and is now the subject of the unlawful conspiracy complained of by the government.

The indictment expressly charges that through a conspiracy about 20 concerns and several individuals were forced to discontinue as individual and competing firms.

The indictment bears the endorsement of Colonel William Hayward, U. S. district attorney, and was prepared on evidence presented by R. Colton Lewis and William Benham, special assistants to Attorney General Daugherty.

SECOND DEFEAT FOR LOCAL GIRLS' VARSITY

Saturday afternoon the Asylum City girls valiantly defeated the local girls' varsity by the score of 33 to 17 and all because the locals did not play as they have been in the habit of doing. This marks their second defeat this year.

Starting with an inexhaustible supply of pep the Middletown girls outplayed the K. H. S. girls from the start and rolled up an untieable lead in the first few minutes of play. True, the Kingston forwards, Miss Anne Byrne and Miss Rodgers, toiled mightily, but between them they were only able to score one-half of the visitors' tally. Miss Walker was entirely "off her feed" and seldom did she out-jump her opponent at center, Miss Earl, but Miss Walker's game was splendidly aggressive and she saved the visitors from making a great many more points. The Misses Bruckner and Van Vliet worked hard but somehow they could not keep the score down. At the close of the contest, Miss Seiner, the local coach, expressed her disapproval of the locals in no uncertain terms. For the visitors, Miss Barber alone made 27 points and from this alone it may be said that she is "some Barber." The whole team surely is a formidable aggregation and worth contenders for whatever honors may come its way.
